THE GAP BETWEEN THEOLOGICAL TRAINING AND RELIGIOUS LEADERSHIP

During our research, many interviewees explained to us that they were well trained in theology and religious instruction during their formal education. However, they also communicated that their theological and religious training alone wasn’t enough to prepare them for the emotional rigor they faced as religious leaders (figure 1.1). As Roy wrote previously: “Pastoral ministry is all about relationships. You may be a brilliant theologian, excellent at biblical exegesis . . . but if you are not emotionally intelligent, your ministry . . . will be difficult.”¹¹
“If we are to lead excellently, we are unable to process every scenario that we encounter on a purely informational or rational level. By ignoring our emotions, we will short circuit our abilities and stunt our formation as religious leaders”.

EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE OF JESUS – John 20:19-31
19 On the evening of that day, the first day of the week, the doors being shut where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood among them and said to them, "Peace be with you."

20 When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his side. Then the disciples were glad when they saw the Lord. 21 Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you." 22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit.

23 If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained."
24 Now Thomas, one of the twelve, called the Twin, was not with them when Jesus came. 25 So the other disciples told him, "We have seen the Lord." But he said to them, "Unless I see in his hands the print of the nails, and place my finger in the mark of the nails, and place my hand in his side, I will not believe."

26 Eight days later, his disciples were again in the house, and Thomas was with them. The doors were shut, but Jesus came and stood among them, and said, "Peace be with you." 27 Then he said to Thomas, "Put your finger here, and see my hands; and put out your hand, and place it in my side; do not be faithless, but believing." 28 Thomas answered him, "My Lord and my God!" 29 Jesus said to him, "Have you believed because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and yet believe."
